

Welcome Pack

London | 28 Feb - 1 Mar 2015

HackLondon.org

Welcome to HackLondon.

In November, UCL TechSoc and UCL Entrepreneurs approached KCL Tech with a suggestion and an idea: three heads are better than one. We went to MLH, and with their never-ending support, HackLondon was born.

If you need any help or assistance throughout the day, there will be a HackLondon representative in whichever room you'll be in. We'll be wearing black t-shirts with the HackLondon logo on them, so you can't miss us.

Maps

Please note, we are only allowed to use the rooms and facilities in red. Which means that the rest (which is in black) is off limits for HackLondon volunteers and attendees. Fire exits are marked in green.

If you need help finding a room, please always start by asking the nearest HackLondon team member.

Ground Floor

For meals, we will have HackLondon team members guiding attendees from the rooms to the Food Hub.

We will be announcing and reminding everyone of the events happening on both days, and will have the HackLondon team guiding everyone to whichever rooms the events are hosted in.

Showers

We have a limited number of showers on floor K-1.

Showers will be open between 5:30am and 9:00am for boys, and 9:15am to 10:30am for girls.

The way we will manage the showers will be using a numbering ticket system. Here's how it will work, algorithm-style:

If there's a shower available,
Enjoy your shower!

Otherwise,
Collect a number
Wait for your number to be called
If you're there when your number is called

Enjoy your shower!

Otherwise,
we'll skip you and you'll have to grab a new number.

There's a 10-minute limit on showers from the moment you walk in, so please don't take too much time (we can turn off the hot water in individual showers, so it's going to be pretty entertaining if you take more than 10 minutes :D)

Sleep Zone

Between 9:30pm and 8:30am, the Lecture Hall will become a Sleep Zone. There are certain rules to follow in the Sleep Zone. Failure to follow those rules will result in us asking you to leave from the Sleep Zone. Please follow the instructions of the HackLondon team members during this time. They know what's best for everyone.

If you break any of the rules, you will get one warning. After that, you'll be asked to leave the Sleep Zone.

The rules are:

1. No Food & Drinks

This includes snacks, fizzy drinks and anything else you can consume, really. There is one exception to this, and that's water bottles. Sports caps are noisy, so please don't bring an sports-capped water bottles into the sleep zone.

2. No Music

Please do not play music in the Sleep Zone. You're allowed to put earphones or headphones on, but if someone complains that your music is too loud, either relocate to a more private area in the Sleep Zone or turn the music down.

3. No Phones (to a certain extent)

Obviously, you're not allowed to make any calls during Sleep Zone. You can use your phones if they don't vibrate or make noise whatsoever. You're three floors underground, so we highly doubt you'll get any network (you'd be surprised though).

4. No Alarms

You can register a "wake-up call" with the HackLondon team members in the Sleep Zone, and they'll be sure to wake you up when you ask them to. They'll write down what you're wearing and/or where you're sleeping, and a bit more info about you so they can track you down later, or for another HackLondon team member to wake you up in case there's a change of shifts.

5. No Photos

Please respect the privacy of sleepy hackers in the Sleep Zone, and do not take pictures or videos. Code of Conduct rules apply here.

The Hardware Bunker

The Hardware Bunker is sponsored by King's Robotics Society have been awesome enough to providing £400-worth of hardware for you to borrow at the event for your projects. They've also offered to open up their lab, the Hardware Bunker, for us to use during HackLondon!

It is open for an hour on each day, starting at 6:00pm on Saturday and 7:30am on Sunday.

To use the Hardware Bunker, just meet the King's Robotics team at reception at 5:45pm on Saturday and 7:15am on Sunday. They wait for ten minutes before heading down to the Hardware Bunker. If you miss them, you're gonna have a bad time.

There are two rules to follow when at the Hardware Bunker. Breaking these rules may result in your team being disqualified and asked to leave HackLondon.

1. Don't touch anything outside of the benches you're assigned at the Bunker.
2. Follow the instructions of the the King's Robotics teams at all times.

Prayer Room

If anyone would like access to the Muslim prayer room, we will be opening the prayer room at certain times. If you'd like access to the prayer room, please meet Fares or Ammaar at the Chill Room (S-1.01) at these times: 1:30pm, 4:00pm, 6:00pm, 8:00pm on Saturday.
